DEFINITIONS

Executive Sponsor: The Executive Sponsor is the vice-president who provides oversight to the area in which a Policy is designated. Executive Sponsors provide direction on policy collaboration and consultation requirements, review the final draft of policy development proposals, and approve changes to Procedures.

Governance Policy: Policies that are approved by the Saskatchewan Polytechnic board of directors are designated by “G”. Governance Policies are those which relate directly to the mandate of the board of directors (as opposed to those of management), or that specifically assign duties to the board of directors, or that are specified as the responsibility of the board in The Saskatchewan Polytechnic Act, “Bylaw 1,” or other relevant legislation.

Guiding Principles: Policies at Saskatchewan Polytechnic are based on guiding principles. Guiding principles are the fundamental commitments that orient Saskatchewan Polytechnic in decision-making with regard to the policy topic. Clear guiding principles ensure that users of policies and procedures have direction to make decisions that align with the organization’s commitments, even when they encounter specific situations that do not fit directly with the details of the procedures.

Guidelines: Saskatchewan Polytechnic has numerous documents beyond institutional policies and procedures that direct the behaviour of various aspects of the organization. As a third tier of documentation, guidelines are approved by the Policy Sponsor for the policy to which the guidelines relate.

Operational Policy: Policies that relate to the day-to-day activities and/or management of the institution and are authorized by the president & CEO.

Policy: A policy sets out the strategic or philosophical position that Saskatchewan Polytechnic takes on a given topic. Policy statements answer the questions “What?” and “Why?”. Policy statements are durable and tend not to change often. They are based on guiding principles.

Policy Development Guidelines: The Saskatchewan Polytechnic Policy Development Guidelines are designed to help ensure consistency and quality across the organization in writing policies and procedures. The Saskatchewan Polytechnic Policy Development Guidelines are approved by the Policy Sponsor (or delegate) and maintained by the Policy Facilitator.

Policy Facilitator: The Policy Facilitator is delegated authority by the vice-president Advancement and International to support Policy Sponsors (or delegates) in the authorized policy development process, to ensure consistency and compliance with the Saskatchewan Polytechnic Policy Development Guidelines, and to manage the retention and disposal of Policy and Procedures documents.

Policy Sponsor: A Policy Sponsor is the individual assigned to lead the development and review process of a given policy and the related procedures. Policy sponsors conduct their work under the oversight of the policy’s Executive Sponsor.

Procedures: Procedures describe how the organization will carry out its strategic position and commitment on a given topic. Procedures answer the questions “Who?” and “How?”. As such, procedures typically outline roles, responsibilities, methods, and chronological steps to take in a given situation.

Saskatchewan Polytechnic Community: The Saskatchewan Polytechnic Community is comprised of anyone who may be impacted by policy or is expected to comply with policies. The community includes the board of directors, staff, faculty, students and student associations, volunteers, and third-party tenants or contractors.
